

JCI United Kingdom Case Study

Developing tomorrow's leaderstoday

Tracey Hardwick, Employability Trainer and Local Councillor

Tracey joined JCI Wakefield in September 2004 whilst she was a Community Officer with Warburtons. Within a year of joining JCI she had the confidence to change her job and stand for local election.

JCI Roles

JCI Wakefield Business Director 2005
Project Manager Business Lecture 2005
Networking events manager 2005
JCI Wakefield Deputy President 2005
JCI Wakefield President 2006

JCI Achievements

Level 1 Achievement 2005
Wakefield best new member 2005

Tracey says:

In my personal life, my family have benefited from my involvement and from the Personal Development programmes I have attended.

I am happier in my job and I have even gained financially. I have made contacts through chamber that have aided me in my work life and also made me some life-long friends.

Taking part in public speaking and debating has given me the confidence to stand for council and also to change my job role. I can now stand and deliver programmes to large groups of people.

My husband is now part of JCI as he has been impressed by the change in me. JCI has also impacted on the life of my children as it has encouraged my daughter to take part in the Voice of the Future (schools public speaking) competition giving her extra confidence in public speaking.

For more information please look on our website: www.jciuk.org.uk
Or contact: JCI UK Head Office on 01476 404005.